

Project Profile #2 - Karran Edge Stainless Steel Undermount Sinks

Associated Dental Clinic
Madison, WI

Challenge:

Finding a stainless steel sink that could be mounted in countertop surfacing materials that was easier to keep clean and maintain than traditional drop-in surface mount sinks. At the same time offering a seamless, visually appealing and bacteria free installation.

Solution:

Karran Edge Stainless Steel Undermount Sinks offer a seamless installation creating an air-tight anti-microbial environment. Karran Sinks stand up to the rigors of healthcare applications, chemicals and maintenance and can be mounted seamlessly under different surfacing materials such as Avonite Solid Surface and high pressure laminates like Pionite Decorative Laminates.

Testimonial:

"We provided the casework and millwork for a large dental office. This was our first experience with the Karran product line. Jaeckle was extremely helpful during the process with pricing and just as importantly with availability and lead times. There was online support we could use for machining the holes which provided good fit and finish. Our client as well as the architect were very happy with the end result and would recommend Karran on future projects."

Forrest Lipke
General Manager
Hillcraft of Wisconsin

"Our client wanted a highly cleanable counter and sink space. They had come from an older office with laminate counters and stainless surface mount bowls. They have a second location that is newer with solid surface counters, but still surface mount stainless bowls. The stainless is important as some of the materials that may be poured into the sink can cause staining. However the surface mount sinks were difficult and consuming to keep clean at the edges. Our client was thrilled to have an option to use the solid surface counters and get a seamless installation with the Karran Edge Stainless Steel Sink. The bowls were slightly higher in cost than solid surface integral bowls, but the function and cleaning of 40+ sinks daily just got a whole lot easier and more sanitary! As a designer, the look is fabulous – and best of all will remain fabulous."

Cindy Howery
Interior Designer
Potter Lawson, Inc. Wisconsin

